Round table: A focus on all the components of the food supply chain

The lockdown brought to light the importance of our food supply chain and its ability to continue to function to feed our citizens. SPACE is traditionally the time and place that marks the start of the agricultural season. SPACE is also the place where ideas and innovations that will shape the agricultural environment of tomorrow are unveiled. We therefore felt it was very important to organise a forum to highlight all the upstream and downstream components of the food supply chain, and in particular those who work in the shadows or who occupy peripheral jobs, but without whom the supply chain could not function, and without whom, above all, farmers would be unable to continue working (even in times of crisis).

With: Arnaud DEGOULET (AGRIAL President), Gilles HUTTEPAIN (Upstream sector manager –LDC Group), Serge LE BARTZ (EUREDEN President), Emmanuel ROBERT (ANEFA 35 Président), André SERGENT (Chambre Régionale d'Agriculture de Bretagne President) and Mickaël TRICHET (FRSEA Pays de la Loire President)
